

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS (MIS)

MIS 325 INTRO TO DATA COMMUNICATION (3 Hours)

This course covers the following topics in data communication; transmission sources transmission receivers and transmission mediums through which digitized data, voice and images are transmitted within and between computer systems. The course will provide a detailed literacy overview of hardware, software, communication protocols, facilities, carriers, regulations and Management Information Systems as related to the transfer of digitized information.